ANOTHER DEAL.

Austrian Report of Coaling Station Negotiations Between Great Britain and This Country.

London, Nov. 24.—The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says it is semi-officially announced there that negotiations are on foot between Great Britain and the United States with a view of conceding to the latter a coaling station in the Straits of Bab-el-Mandeb, the straits uniting the Red sea with the Indian ocean. With this object in view, the islands of Socotra, in the Indian ocean, 120 miles east of Cape Guardafui, the eastern extension of Africa, is to be leased to the United States, the latter undertaking to erect a lighthouse east and west of the island, which must not be fortified. It is further stipulated, the correspondent says, that only warships are to be allowed to coal there, so as not to injure the English coal trade at Aden.

WITHOUT ANYTHING FEMININE.

There is only one territory of any size and never has been but one—occupied by any considerable population from which woman is absolutely excluded. Yet such a place exists today, and has existed for centuries. As far back as history reaches, to all females it has been forbidden ground. This country without women is situated on a bold plateau between the old peninsula of Aetia, in the Euxine archipelago, and the mainland. Here, in the midst of uncultivated fields and extensive woodlands, dwells a monastic confederation of Greek Christians, with 23 convents and numbering more than 7,000 souls. Not one of the convents dates from a later time than the twelfth century. A few soldiers guard the borders of the land, and no woman is allowed to cross the frontier. Nor is this all; the rule is extended to every female creature, and from time immemorial no cow, mare, hen, duck or goose has been permitted to enter this territory.

COMMISSION INSTRUCTIONS.

Disbanding of Cuban Army and Thanks to the United States.

Santiago, Cuba, Nov. 24.—In general terms, the instructions given to the special commission from the Cuban assembly headed by Gen. Calixto Garcia, now in the United States, were the following:

- First—To bring to the consideration of the United States government the fact that, now Spanish control is ended, it is time for the Cubans to disband, unless required to assist the Americans to keep order, but that it would be a hardship to disband them without payment.
- Second—To request sufficient funds for this purpose out of the income derived from taxation throughout Cuba.
- Third—To offer the support of all classes of Cuban revolutionaries.
- Fourth—To thank the United States congress for the resolution of April, 1898, insuring the independence of Cuba.

THE CLAIMS TO BE CREDITED.

Southern States Cede the Government for Trust Funds of Indian Tribes.

Washington, Nov. 24.—The states of Louisiana, Florida, Tennessee, North and South Carolina and Virginia may have to whistle for the money expended by them in equipping their troops in the late war. This expense was to be reimbursed to them by the United States government, but under a decision rendered by the comptroller of the treasury to lay their claims against the government will not hold.

The case in question grew out of the claim of Virginia for $2,000,000, for the equipment of its troops. This claim was sent to the secretary of the treasury by the auditor of the war department for audit and warrant. It was subsequently referred by the secretary to the comptroller, with the statement that the United States held certain Virginia state and stock bonds, which represented the trust funds of certain Indian tribes and which the United States had been compelled to assume because of the failure of the state to meet the interest thereon and to pay the principal.

The secretary further asked whether or not, under the act of March 3, 1875, he should not withhold payment of the claims so as to offset in part the indebtedness to the United States. The comptroller upheld the secretary and the amount of the state's claim will therefore be ordered to be turned into the treasury of the United States.

Under this decision all of the southern states indebted to the government for Indian trust funds will have their claims withheld and none of them, according to the comptroller, is free from this kind of indebtedness.

CANADA'S SEALING.

Estimates of Its Value Surprisingly Low, and Settlement Expected.

Washington, Nov. 24.—The Behring sea question was the main question before the Anglo-American commission Tuesday when it resumed its sessions after several days' recess. For the first time the two sides were prepared to exchange their estimates on the value of the Canadian sealing fleet, the purpose being to arrive at some fair valuation and retire the fleet by purchase. The initial steps in this discussion were taken while the commission was at Quebec, since which time Capt. H. C. Taylor, in behalf of the Canadians, and Thayer, in behalf of the Americans, have been making appraisals of the fleet. After several weeks at Victoria, where the sealers rendezvoused, Capt. Taylor and Thayer have arrived here, accompanied by Capt. Cox, who represented the sealers. The two appraisals made their reports to the respective sides, and these reports in turn were exchanged by the commissioners with a view to common ground of agreement. It is understood that both appraisals are considerably below what was expected, and that instead of running late millions, they may not much exceed a half million. Under such circumstances strong hopes are expressed by members of the commission that a way may be agreed upon for the buying of this industry and the final settlement of this long-pending and vexatious controversy. It is said, however, that there is still considerable difference between the appraisals of the Canadian and the American experts, which will have to be reconciled before an agreement is possible. After the joint meeting of the commission a special committee, consisting of Lord Herschell and Sir Louis Davies, Senator Fairbanks and Secretary Foster, took up the Behring sea question. Besides the written reports of the appraisers, the latter were called in person and examined regarding the sealing fleet.

The state is as follows: Louisiana, June 24.—Killed, 1 officer and 15 men; wounded 5 officers and 41 men. San Juan, July 1 to 3.—Killed 17 officers and 134 men; wounded 63 officers and 938 men. El Caney, June 1.—Killed 4 officers and 84 men; wounded 24 officers and 332 men. Aguadores, July 1.—Killed 3; wounded 2 officers and 10 men. Around Santiago, July 10 to 12.—Killed 1 officer and 1 man; wounded 1 officer and 12 men. Total killed, 23 officers and 234 men; wounded 102 officers; 1,336 men.

ENGLAND OBJECTS

To the Emperor of China Being Superseded by Empress.

Tientsin, Wash., Nov. 23.—Sir Claude Macdonald, British minister at Peking, will represent to the Chinese government that the emperor should not be superseded by the empress on the simple pretext of the emperor's ill health. He will also object to suspension of reforms begun by the emperor before his removal. He recommends greater precaution against assaults on foreign residents. The British minister is negotiating with other ministers on these subjects.

GERMANY DISTURBED.

Doubts of American Sincerity in the "Open Door" Policy.

London, Nov. 24.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times who remarks this morning upon the "skepticism of the German critics regarding the sincerity of America's intentions to adopt the 'open door' policy in the Philippines," and calls attention of German speculators on the prospect of protection in the American possessions in the Pacific, says: "The Nante Nachrichten draws attention to the treaty of 1872 between Spain, Great Britain and Germany, securing freedom of trade in the Sulu archipelago for Anglo-German shipping, and says that Prince Bismarck at that time successfully contested Spain's claim to have the Sulu regarded as belonging to the Philippine group."

The correspondent draws attention to the fact that a section of the German press "hastily assumes that America will claim the Sulu, and suggests that this is a point upon which an understanding with Great Britain, with a view to joint action, appears indispensable."

MEDICAL SOCIETY.

The Doctors Had Several Interesting Matters—No Action Taken.

There Was No Answer to the Letter From the Druggists' Records to Be Kept.

The Paducah Medical and Surgical society met last night with Dr. J. G. Brooks, on North Fifth street, with a good attendance.

The principal matters that came up for discussion were the letter from the druggists, denying that they are guilty of counter prescribing, and the matter of telephone service.

In the first the doctors decided that no action was necessary. It was decided to keep a record of every prescription made by a druggist, and at each meeting of the society to report it to the doctors. The doctors claim that they can across prescriptions written by druggists every few days, and when they ascertain names and dates, they will be ready to take more decided action, according to the result of last night's meeting.

A rather pointed letter to the management of the East Tennessee Telephone company at Nashville was presented, but it was deemed a little too personal, and was not passed by the society. It was decided in the telephone matter that all the doctors are to keep a record of each instance of unsatisfactory service, with names, time, date, and the result, and report to the authorities at Nashville. When they do report they will report nothing but what they are able to substantiate beyond a doubt.

THE MAN RAN.

Marshal Collins Thought He Was Drunk, and He Was, But He Could Move.

A river man entered Mr. Collins' saloon on Second street last evening and asked the bartender to loan him a dollar out of the drawer. It would be all right, he said, but the bartender did not think so, and declined to grant the request. The man was so insolent that Marshal Collins, who was nearby, was asked to take him out. He did so, and "thumped" him on the outside, and thought he would have to have assistance as the prisoner did not appear able to walk. When he realized that he was in the clutches of an officer he braced himself against a post, pulled himself together, and with one mighty effort freed himself and ran away. He ran so rapidly that a race horse would have had a hard time keeping up with him, and he ran in as straight a line as a soldier man could have gone. The marshal thinks a policeman may sometimes be misled in the degree of intoxication a man may have.

HE WAS DRUNK.

Thomas Webb's Parents Thought He Had Been Poisoned.

Thomas Webb is the name of a small colored boy who went to one of the colored schools. Yesterday afternoon he found a pint bottle of whiskey and thought it would be a nice adventure to drink it all, and find out how it felt. He drank the entire contents. In a short time he began to feel the effects of it, and the teacher did not know what to make of it. A carriage was sent for, and Thomas was conveyed home where Mr. P. H. Stewart was called.

"I guess he'd gone pined hisself," an old woman sorrowfully said as she met the doctor at the door, and led him in. A hasty examination was made, and an injection of apomorphia administered. In a short time a change came over the spirits of Thomas' dreams, and this morning he had plenty of room for Thanksgiving dinner.

ANTI-EXPANSION IN NEW ENGLAND.

It is no new thing to have in New England a strong party, often a dominant party, opposed to the growth of the republic and antagonistic to the national principle. New England conservatism is about to assume an aggressive form. Senator Hoar is ready to accept Prof. Elliot Norton as his intellectual leader, and men of all parties are trying to get together in opposition to the administration in this policy of territorial expansion.

As in the old days when many of the most eminent men of New England were ready to sacrifice the union to destroy slavery, so now we have apostles and propagandists, newspapers and societies working to check, to thwart, to destroy any party that contends that war brought to us opportunities and duties which we cannot escape if we would and would not escape if we could.

The Herald, of Boston, is a magnum journal; it opposed the war with Spain, rejoiced at no American victory, praised the Spanish victories, the administration, and now insists that the war has been to America an unmitigated misfortune. In a recent issue the Herald said: "We have called attention to the fact that the largest majority given to any member of congress from Massachusetts was that of Congressman McCall. The Springfield Republican, commenting upon this result, remarks that Mr. McCall stood alone among Massachusetts representatives in voting against declaring war with Spain, and was the most pronounced

The Imperial yacht Hohenzollern, with the emperor and empress of Germany on board, arrived at Pola, Austria.

The people of the Pacific coast are not so much alarmed by the Pacific coast as they are by the Atlantic coast. The Pacific is the field of future development as surely as was the Great West 100 years ago.

Their response to the administration, and from the Attorneys to the Pacific coast the American people will stand as a not in support of a policy of expansion. Within the next 100 years the Pacific coast will far surpass the Atlantic coast of today in commerce, in industry, in riches and in the future of the world.

"And this change will not be at the expense of New England. The great West has been built up but not at New England's expense. The population, wealth, commerce and industry of New England are far greater today than when Josiah Quincy, a political Mrs. Partington was trying to stay the waves of progress, greater than when the first secessionists were trying to form a new England republic, separate from the American republic. The ill predicted by these prophets of evil have never fallen on us; the curings of these prophecies of evil have changed to blessings. Progress is the law of existence and New England should conform to it without so much idle resistance. America is going forward and will drag New England with her, because, let the scholars and senators of New England say what they will, the heart of New England beats in time with the heart of the West.

A RACING BICYCLE.
English Court Decides It Was a Necessity for a Minor.
The question whether a racing bicycle ought to be classed among the necespassed upon by the chief justice of England and Mr. Justice Kidley, sitting as a divisional court of appeal in the high court of justice. A young man of 19, serving as an apprentice to a scientific instrument maker at Leicester for 21 shillings a week, was sued for the balance due on a racing bicycle which he had purchased for £12 10s. The plaintiff was a cycle manufacturing company. The defendant pleaded infancy. It appeared on the trial that he had won several racing prizes with the wheel, but that he also used it occasionally on the road, and that a road bicycle would have cost a little more. The county court judge of Leicester decided upon the facts of the case that the wheel was a necessary, and therefore resolved judgment against the purchaser, notwithstanding that he was under age. His action in so doing was sustained by the queen's bench division, Lord Chief Justice Russell saying that it could not be held as matter of law under the circumstances that the bicycle was not a necessary. He added, however, that cases might arise in which it would be held as for example, if a lad working in a factory were to order diamond studs worth ten or twenty pounds sterling, or were to buy a horse to ride.

ESCAPED JAIL.
Ed Wilkerson and Bill Gibbins Gain Their Freedom.

Sometime between dark Monday night and daylight Tuesday morning Ed Wilkerson, under a sentence of three years to the pen, and Bill Gibbins, under a sentence of $100 and costs which had to be paid in hard labor at the rate of $1 per day, departed from their residence, just north of the Abbott house, commonly called the jail and have not been heard of since, says the Murray Ledger.

It may have been that the beds were not just to their liking or that the fare did not come up to the De-lmonco standard, but be that as it may it is evident they were not thoroughly pleased with the situation or they would not have gone to the trouble of filing off the bolts of their cell and breaking through the same spot that was gone through once before.

A better night could not have been selected, no one being upon the streets because of the heavy wind and rain, and there was no detection.
Other prisoners in the jail refused to escape.

TWO DRUNKS.
John Perrell and "Detective" Batson, a farmer whose right name is Sheppard Batson, were locked up last night for drunkenness, and will be accorded a hearing tomorrow morning in the police court.

SPINNING WHEEL'S RETURN.

Once a Necessity, Now a Fad of Fashion Fashion.

A spinning wheel in ebony, with silver mountings, formed one of the marriage presents of a high-born Scottish bride recently, and the wheel was intended for use, not as an ornament or an heirloom. Since the princess of Wales and her daughters and other widely personages have revived hand spinning and weaving as a pastime, the occupation has become fashionable among the women of fashion in the United Kingdom. Whether made of wood, silk or cotton, articles, when and woven, are not only more durable but far more satisfactory from an aesthetic standpoint than those produced by the gross or dozen at a manufactory.

Then, too, a pretty woman must perform some delicate and picturesque work, as a spinning wheel, with ribbons, too, must needs be used to hold the yarn in place on the block, and the whole is a fascinating picture, even more satisfactory than the much lauded and advertised "mangle" or "iron-board" for smoothing dresses and other articles. There is an element of practicality, of sound usefulness attending the process of spinning which unconnected with such graceful and pleasing attributes.

To the votaries of fine weaving the prospects of possibilities in the perfection of the art is enchanting. Most of the teachers now come from Sweden, bringing with them quaint individual Nordic designs, distinctive and beautiful in character, but more than that they mean to go fairly well to the standard of average work and respectability. They do something, or perhaps only think something, that the reformer has decided must not and shall not be done or thought. So he starts a movement, with himself as leader, establishes a propaganda, forms a society with a name as long as the moral law, and then goes up hill and down dale, making converts, a bad sort of thing, too, which they mean to go fairly well to the standard of average work and

MR. A. W. WILLIAMS.

The handsome Masonic Temple buffet has changed hands, and Mr. A. W. Williams, formerly one of the best-known traveling liquor salesmen in the United States, is the new proprietor. This gentleman's popularity is attested by the fact that the receipts of the place have doubled under his administration. Mr. Williams isn't a big man physically, but in business matters he is a confirmed cyclone. He is a New Englander, coming from an old family of New Haven, Conn., where he was born and received his early training. He was an ambitious youngster and started to hustle his own living when 13 years old, and he hasn't let up hustling yet. In 1874 he went to Kentucky and for more than eight years was the traveling representative of Friedman, Keller & Co., distillers of Paducah, Ky. In this capacity he traveled through all the southern states, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Colorado and New Mexico. In all his travels he made himself popular everywhere, and if he ever made an enemy he isn't aware of it. Mr. Williams is a Chesterfield in courtesy and politeness. He is married, has a pleasant home and is the father of a bright young man, a graduate in dental surgery.
